MEDIC PALEFACES WIN FROM THE HASKELL INDIANS, 46 TO 0.

"Chub" Morris' Charges Show Great Improvement and Outclass the Brayes-New Men Show Good Form.

Hallowe'en was celebrated in Kansas City on Chief Afraid-To-Lose-The-Pennant's receivation, where Chief "Sal" Walker's band of Haskell Indianc and Chief Harry Heller's palefaced medicine men executed a pigskin dance. In the combat which was given as a part of the celebration the pule-faces laid low the redskins, nabbing fortyeix scalps and allowing the bucks not one single hirsute appendage to appease their thirst for gore. Scalpels were used much more effectively than tomahawks, and Chief Harry Heiler himself was the great | game.

high executioner To speak in the language of the palefaces, the contest was very much after the nature of a "frost." The team "Sal" Walker pitted against the Medicos was not the same one which made such a good im-Pression against Purdue, five of the braves, after the Eastern trip, having decided to desert football. The contest served merely a practice game for the Doctors, who had no difficulty in shutting out their 148-pound opponents by a big score.

Before the game commenced there was considerable delay in deciding upon officials and none could be found to serve ex-ing his first reason on the team, made big gains for their side, and Heller, as usual, tore through the line and around the ends for large advances. Morely proved a success in his new poelition as halfback.

The game started with the Indians guarding the south goal and the wind in their favor. Gravelle returned Holman's kick-off. By a beautiful tackle Wells prevented a gain by Heller around left end. Then Heller, Morely and J. Hill made repeated short gains, working the ball down the field, and Morely circled left end for a touchdown five minutes after play was commenced. Pendleton missed an easy goal.

commenced. Pendleton missed an easy goal.

Gravelle kicked off 50 yards to Heller, who returned 49. Holman crashed through right tackle and made a run of 60 yards. Heller hit the line for a good gain and the recond touchdown, Pendleton kicking goal.

The half closed with the score 22 to 0 in favor of the Medics. The Doctors made many of their big gains through close formations, although a very much improved interference aided the backs in making end roas. In the first half the Indians had the ball only twice, once losing it by punting and once on downs.

The aborigines made a slightly better showing in the last part of the game, but were clearly outclassed. In the first ten minutes of the second half they made a stubborn fight and gave the Medics a tussele whenever the doctors worked the ball running sores on his face, neck, breast, and hands, which continued to grow worse. They looked like raw beef. Sometimes blood would come and sometimes matter. He was awfully bad. Why, we had never heard or read of such a case. My sister had to tie his hands to the hammock to keep him from scratching himself, he itched so. He often rubbed his neck and face against his shoulders. The doctor did little or no good. Said "it came from the blood," etc. She heard of CUTI-CURA (cintment), and I bought her a box, and finding it gave satisfaction she continued to use it. The boy is all well now and his face is clear. NEW CATCHERS' RULES.

Tim Donahue Favors a Change Which Will Make Backstops Stand Under the Bat.

Among the few changes that will undoubtedly be made in the playing rules by the committee of the National League this winter will be one requiring the catcher to play up behind or under the bat, as the common expression is, as soon as play is started. The idea in this is to give faster action to the game, as it has been figured that a saving of the time lost by the catcher in running back and forth and throwing the ball from the grand stand to the pitcher will make a difference of from twenty to thirty minutes in the time of the twenty to thirty minutes in the time of the game.

Among the advocates of this rule are "Uncle Nick" Young, president of the league, and Earl Wagner, of the Washington club, who will undoubtedly present the matter to the members of the playing rules committee when it goes into session at the annual meeting. There has been a demand for this rule for some time and now it is likely to be tried for a season. "There are any number of reasons for passing the rule," said Tim Donahue, Chicago's catcher, when asked for his opinion of the proposed change. "At first glance it may seem like a tremendous hardship on a catcher, but I can convince you in a few moments that it would be a great saving on a backstop and do away with one of the most annoying delays the game as played now has.

cials and none could be found to serve except well known friends of the Medic team. During the game Welker claimed that his team was given the worst of numerous decisions, and when the score was 22 to 6 called in his men. A council of war between the Haskell conch and the Medic captain followed, and Walker was finally persuaded to order his men back to the field. The officials were generally given tredit for fair work, and, while the Medics everal times were guilty of slugging, the Haskells, on more than one occasion, throttled their opponents in tackling.

The work of the Physicians showed great improvement over the form in which they played particularly well and the work of Coach "Chub" Morris in the training of the team was plainly visible. Morely, Grady and Hoiman, each of whom is now playing his first reason on the team, made big gains for their side, and Heller, as usual, tore through the line and around the ends for large advances. Morely proved a success in his new position as halfback.

"That brings up another reason for the change in rules. Many batters hit with more confidence and skill when the catcher is playing up under their bats. I have never been able to tell the reason of that, but lots of good hitters will tell you they like to have the catcher close to them when they want a hit. It may be that they feel surer of having the pitcher put them somewhere near over the plate.

It will all even itself up, too, for the game will not be neary so long in a time sense. Some pitchers want to have the catcher go up as soon as possible, as it makes the target better, as the catcher always holds his hands where he would like to have the pitcher deliver the ball."

Kansas Captain is Badly Bruised and is Resting for the Big Game—
Substitute in Practice.

LAWRENCE, KAS... Oct. 31.—(Special.) The Kansas team began the final week of practice before the big game with Nebraska the afternoon. The boys have been working hard for the past two weeks and as a result are pretty well bruised up, so that after to-morrow the practice will be confined to signal work.

Captain Mosse stood on the side lines today and watched his rules work. Mosse went into the game last Saturday with a severely bruised align, and as the result of further bruises and falls received there is now practically until to play, so that his presence on the side lines to-day and not voluntary. It is hoped that the big captain will round into shape so as to play Saturday, but even if he does it is doubtful if he will be able to last the game out.

Then, in the glad, joyous enthusiasm of the hour, the people will turn out in thousands, and there will be money to hurn. I really believe that if the big fallows would take in Jim Manning with his present team, not draft a man away from him, and even give him a couple of Al people, that he could stand two-three-four or in that neighborhood, and that the Kansas Cityans would appear at every Kansas Cityans would appear at every game in myrlads.

PADDY PURTELL IN TOWN.

Jimmy Ferns' Opponent in the Coming Fight Is Getting in Trim for Good Work.

Paddy Purtell, who is to meet Jimmis Ferns, whom "Smoky" Ben Smith recently fought to a draw, at an early date, was in the city yesterday. Purtell has commenced the city yesterday. Furtell has commenced training and will be in good trim for his ge. Just where the fight will take place has not yet been decided.

Ferns has many friends among the miners of Southeastern Kansas who are betting heavily on their favorite, but all of the Ferns money is covered by Purtell's admirers. Purtell, it would seem from the past records of the two men, should have the better of the light.

Jimmy Michael, the famous bicycle rider, still cherishes hopes of becoming a jockey, and of late has been exercising the horses of W. M. Wallace, at Hawthorne park, at Chicago, Ill. Mr. Wallace said of Michael: "He has a good sear, and can ride at nine-ty-eight pounde. He is anxious to ride, and one of these days when I have an casy horse to ride and the field is small. Punts From the Gridiron.

"King" Kelly, of Princeton, claims that be Tigers will win from Yale on Novem-er 12.

The way to avoid squabbles at the Medic games, as at all others, is to arrange in advance for the officials, as is done when leading university teams play. The fact that Dave Fultz is now a regu ariy marriculated student of the Missouri state university in the law department, will not, of course, permit him to play with the Tigers in league games, as he is at the same time the regularly employed coach of the team.

the same time the regularly employed coach of the team.

The Medics showed wonderfully improved form yesterday over the work they have done at past games. Coach Morris coaching is telling in the play of the men, and the performance of the new players yesterday was particularly gratifying. The Medics still lack wind, hovewer, and too often take advantage of the Aime allowed them between downs.

Football cannot be the terribly brutal sport which some of the uninitiated enloy painting it, as long as it receives the enthus, usic support of such men as chancellor Jesse, of Missouri, and Chancellor Snow, of Kansas, The former acknowledges his fealty to the game in no uncertain terms, and Chancellor Snow demonstrates his fondness for the sport by leading the crowd of university "rooters" whenever Kansas plays a match game.

There is one point in which Kansas is whenever Kansas plays a match game. There is one point in which Kansas is likely to have Nebraska bested when the two teams come together Saturday. If conditions are at all favorable the Jayhawks are likely to do considerable punting, and, if any opportunity offers, Mosse will try to make field goals. Nebraska has no man who can meet Kansas in this respect. Cowgill did some good punting and made occasional field goals, when he was with the team, but he is not now permitted by the faculty to play.

So far as the season has advanced it

Isd by the faculty to play.

So far as the season has advanced it looks very much as though Harvard would outclass all the big Eastern elevens in the kicking department. While Yale has ner McBride, Pennsy her Outland, and Princeton and Cornell a possible star each, Harvard has at least a half dozen first-class kickers. What counts for a good deal more is that with a possible exception, all can be in the game at the same time, as no two play the same position. This will prove of immense advantage in returning punts, giving Harvard about six opporpunts, giving Harvard about six opportunities to one for the other fellows,

If it can be arranged, they say, no discrimination will be made in favor of St. Louis as to the running of excursions from Oklahoma City. As to freight rates, nothing is promised, but it looks very much as if St. Louis would be favored with a bulk of the trade. The fact of the case is, St. Louis capital was responsible for the extension from Sapulpa to Oklahoma City and St. Louis men are demanding the business from that territory. Between its Kansas City friends and its St. Louis backers, the Frisco is in a tight box. No rest will be given until Kansas City has a fair show at the new territory, both in freight and passenger business.

MR. PEAK EXPLAINS.

He Did Not Reflect, Even Remotely, Upon the Condition of Affairs in Jackson County. John L. Peak, ex-United States minister to Switzerland, said yesterday that in his interview on Switzerland and the administration of criminal laws in that country he was incorrectly represented as saying that they don't have train robbers, don't that they don't have train robbers, don't compromise with criminals, drunken judges don't dispose the judiciary; ballot boxes are not stuffed and election frauds are unknown. Mr. Peak says that there was once a train robbery while he was there; that he could not know positively that the officials do not compromise with criminals, as his acquaintance with practice in criminal courts was limited. For the same reason Mr. Peak says he could not know that drunken judges do not disgrace the judiciary, as he knew only two or three judges in Switzerland.

MATTER FOR HOME CIRCLE. Judge Burnham Holds That the Question of Putting Up Stoves Has No Standing in Court.

Turner was in a hurry to get down town and he wis in a hurry to get down town and he lost his temper when his wife insisted that he should put a few more strands of wire around the pipe to hold it together. He cursed her and then he struck her in the face with his list.

"This matter of putting up stoves is one that should be settled in the family circle." remarked Judge Burnham. "A court is no place to discuss the subject. The defendant is discharged."

WOULD BURN IT AGAIN NOTICE

W. D. C. PATTISON ARRAIGNED FOR DESTROYING MORMON CHERCIL.

He Declares He is Not Insane and Refuses to Enter Such a Plea in the Criminal Court.

W. D. C. Pattison, who burned the Mormon temple at Independence, was before the bar of the criminal court yesterday morning ready to answer to the arson. But that opportunity will be denied him until a special jury passes upon the question of his sanity.

Pattison halls from classic Boston, By trade he is a carpenter, by profession a zeulous follower of Joseph Smith, the Mormon prophet. Last September, in reponse to an order or revelation, so he calms, he applied the torch to the church rected by the Hedrikite branch of the Independence, where the people of Zion hope some time to erect a temple, in obediance to the teachings of Joseph Smith and it was destroyed. He came from Boston for the express purpose of taking issue with the Hedrickites for their co-called desecration of hely ground, and it was not until after all argu ments he could make were advanced and many prayerful pleadings did he resort to physical means to accomplish his object. He first knocked down a portion of the fence surrounding the lot. For this he was arrested and prosecuted for malicious mischief. Even this experience did not extinguish the fire of wrath which pos-sessed his soul. It is said of him that as the flames licked into ruins the church edifice he stood at a distance and with a beatific expression on his face offered up a prayer of thanksgiving. Incarceration in jail has not changed his ideas one iota. He is supreme in his faith and undergoes his imprisonment with the stoicsm of the martyr which he believes himself to be. His literature is the Book of Doutrines and Covenants, the Book of Mormon and the Life of Joseph Smith. To his lawyers he pays no attention. He believes that he is God's instrument and that in due time he will be exalted and his enemies punished. On all other subjects he is rational and intelligent. He is evidently a man who has probed deeply into the religion of his church. He has at the end of his tongue all the peculiar dogmas, tenets and sayings of the distinguished man of whose teachings he is such a devoted follower and who, with his brother Hyman, was killed by a mob in Carthage jail, in this state, in 186. During his colloquy with Judge Wofford yesterday he quoted freely from his favorite books; and by his doctrines demonstrated that in taking the position he had concerning the "sacred" lot he was but following the teachings of Joseph and living up to the principles of his bellef.

He frankly told the court that if he was discharged from custody he would again attempt to get possession of the lot. He would, he said, exhort and pray with the claimants until they were convinced that he was right in his contentions.

"They can be convinced," said he, "because I will demonstrate to them that what I have done and what I intend to do is actuated solely by numanitarian reasons."

"If I should discharge you, would you burn the church they are building to replace the one you burned?"

"If all other means failed to clear the grounds," promptly replied Pattison, "I would."

"Would it surprise you if I told you that you are insane." a prayer of thanksgiving. Incarceration in

"Would it surprise you if I told you that would it surprise you it I told you that you are insane?

"It would not."

"But I have told your lawyers to enter a plea of insanity for you."

"I cannot conscientiously agree to such a proposition," replied Pattison. "I am not insane."

sane."
"Well, suppose I enter the plea for you "I cannot override the court, but I do not see how any act of mine can interfere with the intent of the constitution of the United States." United States."
"Do you know that you are not insane?
I may be insane; others in this court may be insane. Suppose our positions were reversed. You would say I was insane because I differ from you, wouldn't you?"

versed. You would say I was insane because I differ from you, wouldn't you?"
"It is that kind of belief." replied Pattison, quickly, "that leads to the most dangerous form of insanity."

The answer was given in a respectful tone, but there was a lash in it, and the court, although discomfited, joined in the hearty laugh that greeted it.

The hearing of Pattison on the charge of insanity was set for November 22, and the tearing of the case of arson was postponed indefinitely.

Pattison has relatives in Boston who will be communicated with in the hope that they will relieve Jackson county of, to use Judge Wofford's words, "one who does not look like a man who should be scat to the peniteritary, but who, at the same time, in the interest of safety, should not be permitted to have his liberty."
